LECTURE ON THINKING THROUGH DIAGRAMS

NAME OF THE EVENT : GUEST LECTURE - “ Thinking through Diagrams”

DATE : 03.03.2023

VENUE : MSAJAA AUDITORIUM

NO. OF STUDENTS ATTENDING : 240

GUEST SPEAKER : AR VENNILA T (DIRECTOR, ARCH-E-STUDIO CHENNAI PRIVATE LIMITED)

EVENT CONVENOR : PROF SATHISH KUMAR

EVENT COORDINATOR : AR SHILPA DAS

ABOUT THE EVENT:

Prof. Vennila T gave an inspiring lecture on the topic “Thinking through Diagrams” on the 1st of March 2023. The intent of the speech was to create awareness of the importance of Diagrams in communicating an individual’s cognitive ideas, which will help them to create better representations of design thinking and its thought process. Various live project sketches and maps, as references to books and works of eminent architects, were projected as a part of the lecture for a better understanding of the topic. Architectural thinking was beautifully explained through the language of diagrams, in various stages of form finding, form making, concept evolution, and structural exploration.

LECTURE ON SITE ANALYSIS & PLANNING

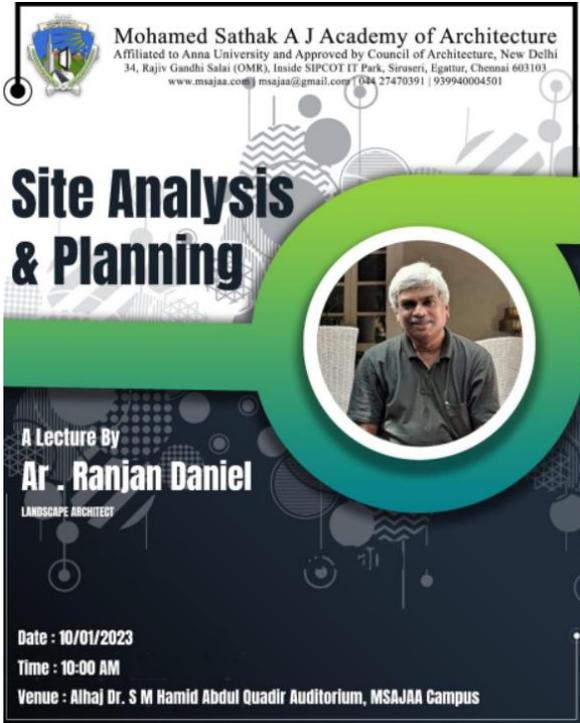

Fig.1: Students listening to the presentation by Ar.Ranjan Daniel.

Name Of The Event: Guest Lecture

Date: 10.01.2023

Venue: Mohamed Sathak A J Academy Of Architecture,
Chennai. Alhaj Dr. S M Hamid Abdul Quadir, Auditorium.

No. Of Students Attending: 240

Guest Speaker: Ar Ranjan Daniel, Landscape Architect.

Topic: Site Analysis And Planning Event

About The Event: The lecture started with a brief introduction and understanding of what site analysis is and the factors affecting it. Each of these factors were briefed and explained with relevant examples from the architect's works. The students were taught how to go about with the concept and zoning process. Ar. Ranjan also shared some of his prominent works and the design process behind each of them such as the Staff housing for CMC Vellore, Mayflower Gated Community, Gurudev Institute of Medical Sciences, Aimury, Kerala and Sri Vijay Vidyalaya, Hosur. An assignment was given to the students as a follow up of the lecture where they were given a site of 50 acres and asked to site three types of apartment blocks with minimum cut and fill and without disturbing the natural storm water drainage. The session ended with an open discussion where the students got their doubts clarified. This lecture was found to be quite useful for the students, especially the final years as it was a right start for their thesis.

DATE: 19.05.2022

VENUE:MSAJAA Auditorium

NO. OF PARTICIPANTS: -

NO. OF AUDIENCE/ ATTENDEES: 193

ABOUT THE EVENT:

A passionate designer, with an eye for detail, Ar. Shripal Munshi has been practicing architecture and interior design for more than two and a half decades. His practice SVA has designed integrated townships, gated communities, institutional buildings, senior living communities, mixed use commercial projects, hospitality urban as well as resorts, entertainment zones, schools and Rail infrastructure interiors. Irrespective of the scale and geographic locations of the projects, the common thread that joins all of these projects is a rigorous design development and exploration process that yields sensible and sensitive interventions that balance form, order, aesthetics and budgets. The resultant architecture is intended to elevate the human experience and make a positive contribution in our society.

In this lecture Ar. Shripal Munshi discussed about the whole process of understanding how a building is built, and how essential it is to understand principles of design ,understand form space order, understand landscape understand ecology ,understand what is a climate responsive design

SESSION ON SENSE N SENSIBILITY

REPORT

NAME OF THE EVENT: Sense N Sensibility 12.0 - Understanding Different Abilities and Designing for Real people

CONDUCTED BY: Ethos Foundation

DATE: 14.07.2023

VENUE: Online webinar screened in Crit Hall

NO. OF AUDIENCE/ ATTENDEES: 90

ABOUT THE EVENT:

Sense N Sensibility 12.0 webinar was held on the 14th of July, 2023 and with more 50 students participating from MSAJAA, we were recognised as one of the Academic partners for the event and the Academy logo was displayed in this Nation-wide webinar.

The webinar focussed on Universal Design as a design approach that aims to create environments, technologies, and products that are inclusive and accessible to people of all abilities, ages, and backgrounds. It focussed on designing spaces that can be used by everyone without the need for adaptation or specialised accommodations.

Ms. Poonam Natarajan shared how Universal Design can be the guiding design principle to shape our spaces inclusively, creating a world where every individual's unique abilities are celebrated and barriers are shattered. She was accompanied by Ar. Shivani Shah to initiate our attempt at sensitising the public to a more inclusive built environment.

The event ended successfully at 11:45am with the students gaining insights into Universal Design requirements that can be incorporated into their Design studio.

CHIEF GUEST/S: Ms. Poonam Natarajan, Vidyasagar, Chennai

EVENT DESCRIPTION : It was a two-day event in collaboration with INTACH Chennai Chapter, HECS-Heritage Education and Communication Service. The aim of hosting this event was to create an interest and awareness towards heritage and conservation among the undergraduate students studying architecture. It is crucial for budding architects and planners to understand the importance of heritage before beginning their journey in the field of architecture. A holistic understanding of heritage -natural, built and cultural is crucial to maintain a balance when we are designing, conserving buildings and planning or expanding cities.

GLASS WORKSHOP

NAME OF THE EVENT: Glass Workshop

CONDUCTED BY: Architecture Department.

DATE: 23-10-2019 & 24-10-2019

VENUE: MSAJAA First Floor Lobby

NO. OF PARTICIPANTS: 77 First Year Students

RESOURCE PERSON: Srinivas Raghavan

ABOUT THE EVENT:

Workshops and hands-on training are an integral part of learning in an architecture course. Every year, the students of Mohamed Sathak A.J. Academy of Architecture get exposed to different crafts, art forms, and techniques. Recently, they had an opportunity to explore the handling techniques of various arts and crafts tools to use in designing architectural study models and forms in their practice.

The "Having Encounters with Glass Workshop" was held for 1st-semester students as part of their Basic Design and Model Making subjects from 23-10-2019 to 24-10-2019. The workshop aimed to expose the students to various techniques such as blowing a hollow Borosil (India) glass tube at 1400 degrees temperature to attain various forms. Also, using solid Borosil (India) glass tubes at the same temperature, they created different plastic forms.

On the first day of the workshop, the students were allowed to make a group of six members and had to do warm-up sketches. The sketches had to be feasible with the material they were going to use. The group members then discussed with the facilitator Mr. Srinivas Raghavan how to work with the material to get the desired output. When a glass tube is exposed to an enormous temperature (1400°C), it attains the stage of plasticity (glass will not melt, glass is also called a supercooled liquid) at this stage. By an addition process, one can achieve any plastic form.

On the second day, Mr Srinivas Raghavan demonstrated glass blowing, where a glass hollow tube was exposed to heat (1400°C) and blown simultaneously from one end to get the desired bulge or vase-like shape. Different oxides can be used for colouring the glass.

The participants were then allowed to explore and manipulate the material on their own with the necessary guidance from Mr Srinivas Raghavan. The event ended with felicitation and the participants shared their experiences and thanked the department head, organizers, and resource person.

ABOUT THE EVENT:

This Workshop was aimed at students in second year to final year of the Architecture course. This workshop involved interactive sessions and workshops that are interactive and open ended. The use of visual narratives and graphics as an interpretation and communicative tool as opposed to monotonous power point presentations and lectures that provides opportunity for the students to think and speak their minds. Hands-on sessions to involved participation of the students and put theory into practice, was a major part of the workshop as a physical product helps one understand the process better.

During their field trip to Kanchipuram, the second-year students were able to gain a profound appreciation of the city's architectural heritage and cultural significance. The students were able to immerse themselves in the splendor of Kanchipuram's temples and monuments, which provided them with invaluable insights into the evolution of Dravidian architecture and its enduring legacy. The field trip proved to be a transformative learning experience for the students, inspiring them to draw inspiration from the past while innovating for the future in their architectural endeavors.

COLLABORATIVE DESIGN STUDIO @ SPA, New Delhi.

NAME OF THE EVENT: URBAN DESIGN COLLABORATIVE STUDIO

CONDUCTED BY: MSAJAA in collaboration with Architecture Department, School of Planning and Architecture, New Delhi

DATE: 31st January, 1st February 2023

VENUE: School of Planning and Architecture, New Delhi

NO. OF PARTICIPANTS: 76 VIII sem students of MSAJAA and 40 students of SPA, New Delhi

NO. OF AUDIENCE/ ATTENDEES: NA

DIGNITARIES:

Ar. Anand Dhote, Ar. Rashideen Saifi, Ar. Ramneet Kaur, Ar. Nishant Guatam (all from SPA, New Delhi)

ABOUT THE STUDIO: As part of the collaborative studio students studied successful precincts that have emerged as a result of the Delhi metro rail project. Students developed an understanding of how a conscious, people centric connection has been established between the older nodes to newer urban transit generated nodal points or centres. In this context, students need to be cognizant of place making in its entirety. Discerning the attributes of the Urban precinct followed by ideation in the public realm was the end goal of the studio. Students greatly benefited from this experience of understanding the ongoing paradigm shift in urban developmental models while meeting goals of sustainable development.

Five stretches along Delhi metro lines were identified and studied. Students worked in groups of 20, 15 from MSAJAA and 5 from SPA, New Delhi. Two faculty, one each from MSAJAA and SPA New Delhi mentored them.

BAMBOO, LIME AND MUD WORKSHOP AT SACRED GROOVES AUROVILLE

REPORT

NAME OF THE EVENT: BAMBOO, LIME AND MUD WORKSHOP

CONDUCTED BY:

DATE: 21ST JANUARY 2019 TO 30TH JANUARY 2019

VENUE: SACRED GROOVES AUROVILLE

NO. OF PARTICIPANTS: 120

ABOUT THE EVENT

The Bamboo, Lime and Mud Workshop is an immersive learning experience focused on sustainable building practices and eco-friendly construction techniques. Participants had the opportunity to explore the versatility of bamboo, lime, and mud as building materials, while they gained hands-on experience in their use.

The BMC workshop was organized for 1st year students of MSAJAA (batch 2018) total of 120 students attended the workshop organized at Sacred Grooves under the guidance of Ar. Mano Gopalan. They were accompanied by faculty guides. The workshop was conducted as two sessions for 3 days each for batches of 60 students. The objective was to experience building construction using natural building materials such as Mud, Rubble, Lime and bamboo. During the workshop, participants had a hands on learning experience on how to use mud for Rammed Earth, Cob, Adobe, shallow trench foundation using rubble, and also use of lime plaster.

BRICK WORKSHOP AT MOHAMED SATHAK A.J. ACADEMY OF ARCHITECTURE

NAME OF THE EVENT: BRICK WORKSHOP-ARCHES AND DOMES

CONDUCTED BY: Technology Transfer cell, MSAJAA

DATE : 8 th to 12 th October , 2018

VENUE: Construction Yard, MSAJAA

NO. OF PARTICIPANTS: 119

EXTERNAL EXPERTS: .Ar. Niyaz Satar

Fig.1: Students participating in hands-on Brick workshop at MSAJAA..

ABOUT THE EVENT:

Ar. Niyaz Satar started the session with an overview of the building material brick and its possibilities and properties as a material.

Students were then made to understand composition of the mortar required for constructing with brick. The hands-on workshop by Ar. Niyaz focussed on brick arches and domes. Many arch forms have been developed during the centuries of use, ranging from the jack arch through the circular, elliptical and parabolic to the Gothic arch.

Students participated in building brick arches and domes in the construction yard. The brick arch is the consummate example of form following function. Its aesthetic appeal lies in the variety of forms which can be used to express unity, balance, proportion, scale and character. Its structural advantage results from the fact that under uniform load, the invoiced stresses are principally compressive. Because brick masonry has greater resistance to compression than tension, the masonry arch is frequently the most efficient structural element to span openings.

DISCUSSION ON GREEN BUILDING ACCREDITATION

NAME OF THE EVENT: Green Building and professional accreditation

CONDUCTED BY: Entrepreneurship & Development Cell and ECC Committee ,MSAJAA

DATE: 26.04.2023 VENUE: MSAJAA Auditorium NO. OF. PARTICIPANTS: 30

EXPERTS: Ar. Porchelvi, Ar. Shilpa

ABOUT THE EVENT: This workshop was conducted as an introductory session towards green building rating systems for the students of MSAJAA and they were guided by experts speakers Ar.Porchelvi and Ar Shilpa. Ar.Porchelvi is an IGBC certified Architect whereas Ar. Shilpa is a LEED GA. The objective was to create an awareness among the students of the green rating systems, its significance in the current scenario and how it can be beneficial to architects and architecture students. Various rating systems such as LEED, WELL, GEM,IGBC, GRIHA, etc were introduced The process of a building to acheive green certifications with these rating systems were also elaborated in the session. Furthermore, the opportunities for green accredited professionals were discussed in detail. It also consisted of creating an awareness among the students of getting certified as a green accredited professional and how it can be beneficial in their career.

DECODING AI IN ARCHITECTURE

NAME OF THE EVENT: A Panel Discussion on Decoding AI in Architecture

CONDUCTED BY: Mohamed Sathak A.J Academy of Architecture

DATE: 19th October 2023

VENUE: MSAJAA Auditorium

NO. OF PARTICIPANTS: 20

NO. OF AUDIENCE/ ATTENDEES: 300

DIGNITARIES: Prof. Dr. Raneer Vedomuthu, Prof. Satish Kumar (HOD Admin), Prof. Vandana Balakrishnan (HOD Academic).

CHIEF GUEST/S: Ar. Habeeb Khan - Chairman of BOG, SPA New Delhi, Er. Viveganandan - Director of Engineering, Amtex Systems & Er. Amulya Prasad - Data Scientist, Secura Health

ABOUT THE EVENT:

At the commencement of the event, esteemed guests including Ar. Habib Kahn, Er. Viveganandan and Ms. Amulya Prasad, emphasized the profound significance of AI in various fields. Ar. Habeeb Khan, engaged in a thought-provoking panel discussion with students - Mr. Dhatre, Mr. Sajan, Mr. Abijith, Ms. Adithi, Ms. Punima, Ms. Kelsey, Ms. Aarya, Mr. Abishek, Mr. Yazer, Ms. Aradhana, Ms. Iniya, Ms. Shalan, and Mr. Johan, answering their inquiries on the role of AI in architecture where Ar. Yagapriya moderated the discussion.

The Chief Guests of the Panel initiated the discussion by imparting insights into the fundamentals of AI, encompassing input, processing models, and output. AI's ability to convert human language into machine language through natural language processing was highlighted, compared with traditional manual coding and AI's capacity to generate code from existing data. They emphasized that every generation of AI has its unique knowledge and identified three types of learning: supervised, unsupervised, and reinforced.

Overall, the event was an enlightening discourse that emphasized the mutually beneficial relationship between AI and Architects, enriching the understanding of AI's transformative impact in the realm of architecture and design.

PHOTOSHOP SOFTWARE WORKSHOP

NAME OF THE EVENT: Workshop on “Introduction to Photoshop”
CONDUCTED BY: Extra Curricular & Cultural Committee
DATE: 15.03.2023 VENUE: Computer Lab 2 NO. OF PARTICIPANTS: 33
NO. OF AUDIENCE/ ATTENDEES: 33
EXPERT SPEAKERS: Ar. Zameerul Iqbal - Assistant Professor
EVENT COORDINATOR: Ar. Pallavi Damodara, Ar. Shyamala B & Ar. Priti G

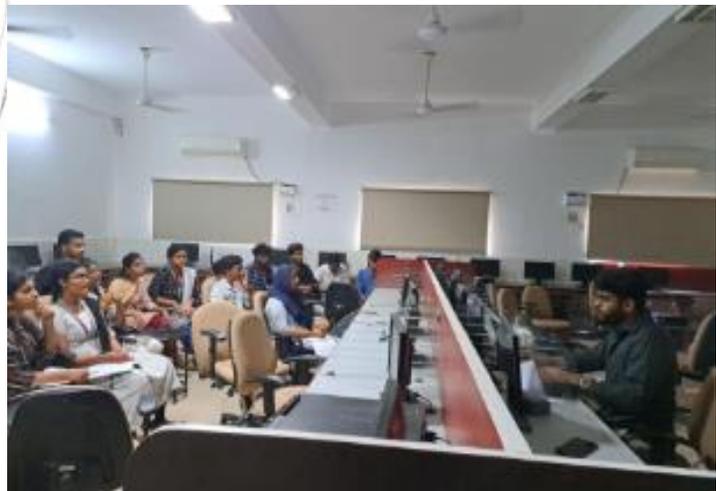

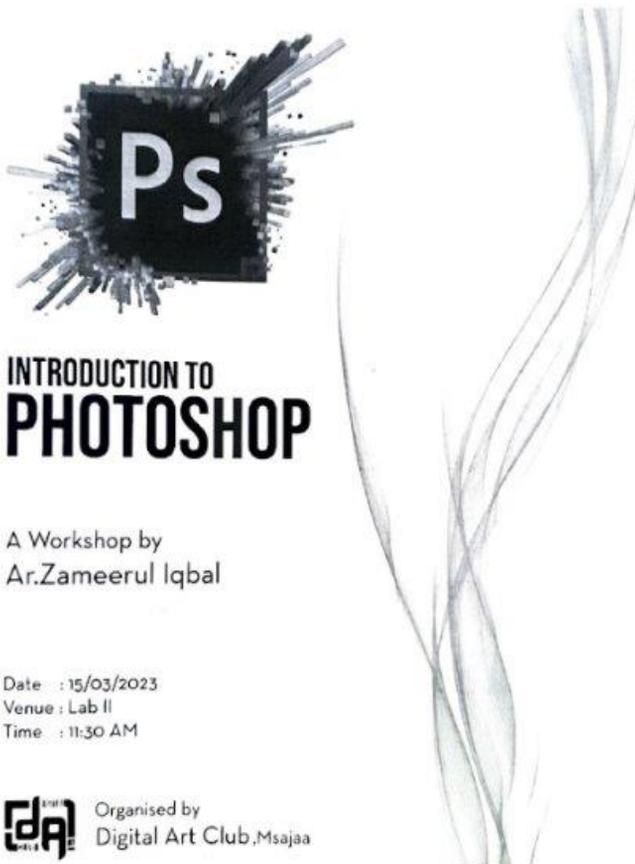

ABOUT THE EVENT:

Introduction to Photoshop Workshop was conducted as a part of the “Lets Learn” Lecture series organised by the ECC Committee with walk-in registrations for all interested students and staff of the Academy’s B.Arch & M.Arch programmes. There was a moderate turn-out of 33 participants who learnt the basic program functions of the Adobe photoshop software and also saw a project executed with the same. The audience was enthusiastic and had questions that were answered by the workshop speakers. The workshop also introduced many of the students to this in-vogue software and its applications in 3D visualisation of architectural projects.

Dear Unit Secretary,
Greetings from Bangalore!

We are thrilled to announce the shortlisted entries for stage 2 of the Writing Architecture Trophy for 65th Year of NASA India.

ENTRY CODE	COLLEGE CODE	JURY REMARKS
6SWAT-530	2524	Word limit has exceeded. The lens chosen to bring light upon the political manipulation that our public places go through has a lot of potential. Something relatable and thought provoking.
6SWAT-705	2524	Well written abstract. The author gently steers to the idea of design of modern public space by way of an example. Use of a single case study may be limiting but at the same time can help put forth a strong argument, if supplemented with scientific data.
6SWAT-704	2524	A somber note, perhaps of the impending gloom. However, connecting it to the idea of Urban Open Spaces may be a challenge.
6SWAT-571	2538	The piece is well-written and well-referenced. It has a clear thematic that is established, which it aims to develop. The methods for the same is unclear, if the author wishes to stay within the ambit of research, it may involve serious sourcing of references for mapping and projects done within a similar context of the global south. Another possible method is to develop fictional case scenarios.
6SWAT-221	2543	Interesting insight into an indian way of appropriating public spaces. could have been better written.
6SWAT-360	2547	Good title. You are one of the few people who have added an image. I really like the hook of your piece "Mah Laqa Bai". However a classic question that comes to me after reading your piece is 'so what?' What do you want to say by taking the case of mah laqa bai. It would have been great to read a slightly nuanced read. Currently the text feels a little generic, non personal / less emotive.
6SWAT-696	2547	A crisp narration of the subject matter. The author is clear in stating the problems and is hopeful of its potential.
6SWAT-378	2548	It is an interesting perspective. The writing could have been more sharper. A more focus on one case (the Charminar) could have helped. There is potential in the piece if developed, it also needs another angle the city taking through its streetlights or dustbins an army of busstop etc...
6SWAT-125	2551	The paper requires an in-depth understanding of what it means by single/multiple authors. Is there a relationship with stakeholders? Then how?
6SWAT-344	2555	I really liked the part "they call it a public place"... the piece has great potential if you just take the idea of what a public place would look like to a non human species...
6SWAT-250	2564	Many issues raised, needs focus on any one aspect in depth.
6SWAT-100	2604	The abstract is interesting but / objectives need to be more focused further in the paper.
6SWAT-295	2634	interesting thoughts, well written. However, the idea that the world needs to be saved from architecture rather than saved by it, is mostly eurocentric and not so new. Think about how this line of thought could evolve in a context such as south asia, where young architects are desperately searching for new meanings and relevance of their work.
6SWAT-396	2634	There is potential to create a structured narrative.
6SWAT-332	2641	Great potential for the final product. I would stick to māne ("moon") + gata ("street, road") and chandani chowk. A poetic description of 21st century time. How does the CC hold relevance today in the imagination of the people of Delhi.
6SWAT-99	2643	Well presented abstract that opens up imaginative idea of the situation of the conversations happening therein. Narrative of the spaces of interaction are clearly visible.
6SWAT-25	2672	Issues raised can be rationally expressed further

STUDENT PROFILE – Ar. MUKILAN

MSAJAA is proud of its alumnus Mukilan (Batch 2013-18) who has demonstrated the success of the curricular enrichment program of the institution. The switch from an architect to an entrepreneur is an amazing journey of innovativeness and adaptability. By relying on his knowledge in architecture, it is likely that Mukilan's entrepreneurial ventures possess a unique perspective particularly in making laser cut architectural models as well as customized products. His ability to find markets with less competition and serve them effectively is proof of entrepreneurship besides being a specialist in this area. At the same time, this transition also highlights the versatility of skills that people can utilize across different domains to attain success albeit through different channels.

STUDENT PROFILE – JEEVITH RAJ

Jeevith Raj is currently pursuing his bachelor's degree at MSAJAA. He has prior internship experience at Wallmakers and brings together his architectural expertise with a passion for photography and videography. In addition to his architectural studies, Jeevith has developed a deep interest in photography and videography. He has honed his skills through attending numerous workshops and activities offered by the institution. If given the opportunity, Jeevith aims to capture the essence of architectural projects such as "Toy Storey" in Vadakara, Kerala, which was designed by Ar. Vinu Daniel.
